

Winter Survival Guide

by Debbie Nicholson

How to Survive Winter When You're a Summer Person

And Stay Married to a Human Thermostat.

What You Will Find Inside

Funny side-by-side comparisons

Summer Lover (You)

Winter Lover (Him)

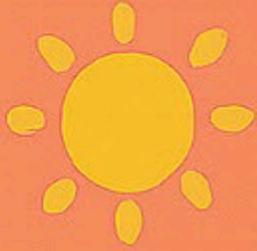

Silly 'Compromises' to
Keep the Peace

Winter Survival Tips
for Summer Souls

Printable wall sign

How to Survive
WINTER
When You're a
SUMMER
PERSON

Summer Lover
(YOU)

Winter Lover
(HIM)

VS

Sun is my soulmate.

Cold?
That's comfort.

Lives on Iced Chocolate

Lives on Hot Soup

Loves Sandals

Loves Slippers

Sleeps with window open

Sleeps in fleece fortress

Wears bright colours

Wears all shades of Gray

Dreams of Beach Holidays

Dreams of Snow-covered huts

Summer vs. Winter A Love Story

SUMMER LOVER

WINTER LOVER

VS

5 COMPROMISES

1. Sunshine Corner
2. Year Round Hot
3. Blanket Truce
4. Neutral Zones
5. Half Fluffy Truce
6. Daily Temperature Updates

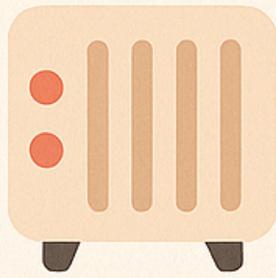

5 Compromises to Keep the Peace

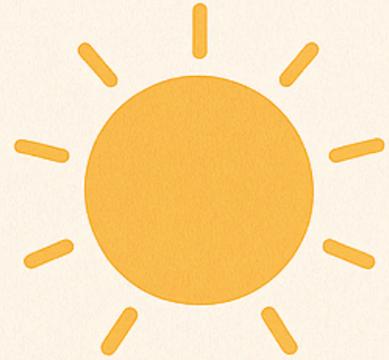

You

Him

1

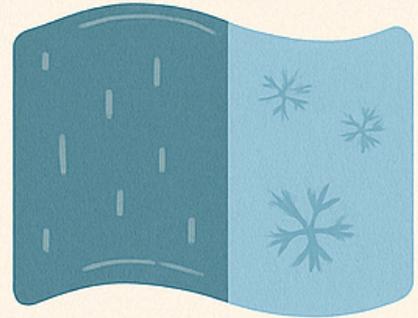

Zoned Heating

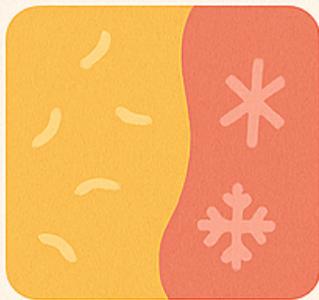

2

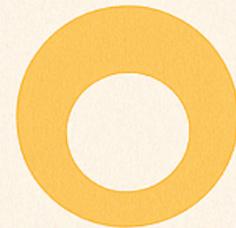

Sunshine Corner

3

Blanket Truce

4

Weather-Shuffle
Movie Nights

MARRIED TO MY WEATHER OPPOSITE

5 Compromises

1 Blanket Truce

Fleece for one side,
cooling cotton for the other.

2 Sock Swap

His: thick winter woollies
Hers: pineapple-print summer socks

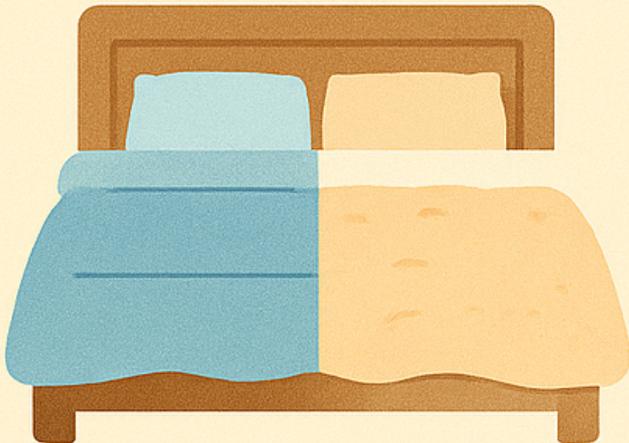

3 Dessert

Ice cream for her.
Hot pudding for him.

4 Hideaway Haven

Her corner: faux beach zone
His corner: reading nook with heater

5 Fan Zones

One side gets the breeze.
The other gets the fire.

Still married.
Still opposite.
Still perfect.

(Since 1987)

Still married.
Still Perfect.

We may not agree
on temperature,
but we've kept
each other warm
since 1987.

*Still married.
Still opposite.
Still perfect.)*